Volume 8, Issue 2

From The Editor

Once again your humble, yet tardy, editor has run late in getting an issue out. My only explanation is that, as part of my job, the last week of June I spent in St. Louis studying for my Cisco Certified Network Associate exam. Friday, June 28th, I successfully completed my CCNA certification.

But while I was goofing off, other family researchers were hard at work pulling together the documents and information we have for you in this issue.

Karen (Summitt) McAtee-MacRae has gathered some wonderful photographs of the tombstones and has transcribed the names of those buried in the Barber Cemetery near Sims in Montgomery County, Arkansas. She has also provided the birth and death certificates for Harrison Ollie Summitt.

Bob Shuping has provided us with pictures and a report on the 2002 North Carolina Reunion of the descendants of Alexander Commodore Summitt.

Glen H. Summitt of Tennessee has provided new pictures of the work he has done with the broken tombstones at the old St. Paul's Lutheran Church Cemetery in Tennessee. Our lead article on Jesse and Mary Butler is also due to Glen's work.

Glen Summitt of Boston also

Jesse and Mary Butler

Editor's Note: Jesse and Mary Taylor Butler were the parents of Parmenius Taylor Butler and Elizabeth Sophia Butler. As you will see in the Descendants list below, Parmenius married Lydia Summit and Elizabeth, or Betty, married Jonathan Summitt. The tombstones above were found and photographed by Glen H. Summitt of Loudon, Tennessee. The tombstones themselves are located in the Bat Creek Cemetery (Cow Pasture), Monroe County, Tennessee near Flowers Mill. The inscriptions read:

Jesse Butler, born May 11, 1791, died Sept. 30, 1851.

His wife, Mary , born Jan. 11, 1794, died Mar. 4, 1880.

According to Glen, Mary's stone is broken off at this time and cows have damaged several stones in this small cemetery.

provides us with both a posting concerning a brand new Summit joining the ranks and also a descendant list from Thomas Shouse Summitt.

So, this issue contains lots of information that you're going to want to investigate. While you're thinking about things like this, why don't you write down the information about your family and send it to us to be included in a future issue.

Mary and I hope to visit Madison, Franklin, and Cape Girardeau counties over the next few months in our effort to find more information about Jacob and John Summitt who were discussed in the last issue.

I hope to visit the Missouri boot heel to see family sometime this month and I'll be in Dallas for a week in August and another week in September doing training to become an Oracle Database Administrator. Holler if I'm going to be near you and let's visit.

2002 North Carolina Reunion Report

(Editor's Note: This is the first reunion report we have received for this year. Bob Shuping has been doing an excellent job of keeping us up-to-date and informed of this branch of the family's happenings. Thanks Bob!)

Well, we had the 6th reunion, and we did have fun and good food. Yeah, good food!

Forty two attended this year. Of the families, the following came:

Fate:	12
Hoke	6
Floy	6
Maudella	7
Willie	3
Barkley	4
Visitors	4
Total	42

First timers this year: Carol and Bob Preston, and their son Miguel. Carol is the daughter of Willie and Helen Summitt. They live in Windham, New Hampshire, and Miguel lives in Sterling, Virginia. It was good seeing Carol again and meeting her family. We signed a card for Carol to take back to Aunt Helen.

We had special guests this year: Mark and Karen Bollinger and their daughters. Mark studies the Bollinger family. His great grandfather and Laura Dora Bollinger Summitt were siblings. This makes us...., well...., uh...., sometinh cousin, I believe. Mark also displayed the ancestral chart of the Bollinger family back to Switzerland. Please remember that Alex and Dora Summitt moved to Rowan County in 1917, following her brothers, and after Alex's mother (Perlve) died. We really enjoyed having them and hope that Mark and his family will return.

Some newly weds came: Chris and Michael Gearren, sons of Shelia and Ronald Gearren, and grandsons of Floyd and Jean Summitt. Chris's wife, Nicole, had to work and was unable to come. Kelly joined us this year as Michael's wife. We wish them, and all others, peace, happiness, and good health. And lots of sons.

Maudella's granddaughter, Sandi Link Freeze, Rick, and son Tyler, were able to be with us this year. Their daughter, Shaina, had a conflict and couldn't come. Sandi and her family just moved back to Rowan County. They had been living in Montgomery, Alabama. Sandi is my niece, and I am happy that she's back.

Aunt Celia was as vibrant as ever. She and her family make this event happen at her church.

Remember, the reunion is on the Saturday before the fourth Sunday in June. For 2003, that will be June 21st. Mark your calendars now. Make everyone else to do the same.

Now, my pictures didn't turn out too well. I had a new digital camera and really hadn't used it too much. I'm hoping that others will share their photos with me. If I get any, I'll scan them and post them; will let you know. Again this year, if you want to know what I look like, keep on guessing. So go to:

http://www.clubphoto.com/reward.php?id=808312&mid=members5_bob337130&pwd= and see your family.

Jonathan Summitt's tombstone, located at Lakeside, Vonore, Monroe County, Tennessee—Old St. Paul Lutheran Cemetery—The tombstone was cleaned and cemented/ reset in December, 2001 by White Stone Company. "(The) Stone was almost completely covered with dirt and grass. I didn't know it was there until I used my shoe to uncover what looked like a rock. (See Editor's photograph from 1988 to the left.) When I look close I find lots of work to restore the cemetery as it should be. Mr. White said about $3000.00 to do it. I had Peter and Nancy's stone re-set. It is next to Jonathan's. Both cost $200.00 but it is sure worth it! The cemetery is worse than I thought because I never looked real close."

Notes for ELIZABETH SOPHIA BUTLER:

From Paul C. Summitt's notes: burial place is unknown but she probably died on the family farm in southern Loudon County and was buried in the St. Paul Lutheran Old Cemetery where Jonathan was buried. A tombstone has not been found. The entry September 13, 1902 age 86 years 2 months 12 days was taken from a family bible and appears to be a tombstone inscription format.

Knoxville, May 22, 1863

Hon. George Brown,
Judge of the Third Judicial Circuit of Tennessee:

Respondent John E. Toole for answer and return to your honor's writ of habeas corpus issued upon the petition of Stephen McKee, Michael Malone, and Jonathan Summitt would respectfully state and show unto your honor that the statement of the petitioners that they are restrained of their liberty upon a charge of the murder of John Cunningham, who was a citizen of Monroe County, &c., is wholly untrue and without foundation. Petitioners were not arrested and have not been held upon the charge of John Cunningham.

Respondent here begs leave to submit to your honor a full and correct statement of facts as to the manner in which petitioners came into the custody of respondent:

On the 3d of this month Col. G. Troup Maxwell, an officer of the C.S. Army, commandant of the post of Loudon, Tenn., sent said petitioners as prisoners under guard to respondent as provost-marshal for the Department of East Tennessee charged with disloyalty and treason against the Government of the Confederate States in harboring and feeding a band of bushwhackers who were committing acts of violence upon the citizens of Monroe County, Tenn., and in discharge of my duty as a subordinate officer of the Confederate Army and in obedience to general orders and instructions from the commanding general of the Department of East Tennessee said petitioners were committed to the military prison at Knoxville to await such further disposition as the Confederate authorities might make in the premises. Afterwards, to wit, on the 12th instant Michael Malone, one of said petitioners, was released from custody upon my application and permitted to return home, and a few days since after the service of the writ upon me petitioners Stephen McKee and Jonathan Summitt were arrested and taken out of the custody of the military authorities by the C. S. marshal for the District of East Tennessee upon a warrant for treason issued by Confederate Commissioner Elliott. Consequently none of said petitioners are in my custody or under my control or the control of the military authorities, but are in the custody and under the control of the civil officers of the Confederate Government, and for this reason I have no power or authority to have the bodies of the petitioners before your honor at Sweet Water Depot on the 23d instant as directed and required in your honor's writ.

Now, having made full answer and return of my doings in the premises I pray to be hence dismissed.

Esnos S is listed with one male 30-40, two females under 5, one female e 20-30. Is this Jonathan's brother Esavias'Eusabius Summitt?[GlenScott.FTW]

The following was copied from http://www.tngenweb.org/monroe/mowills.htm#JSWILL_LIST and was written by Paul C Summitt of Freeport, Florida.

Jonathan Summitt was the son of Daniel and Sarah Moser Summitt, who moved to Monroe County in the 1830s with a large family. Many descendants of this Daniel Summitt and the Mosers still live in Monroe County and other parts of East Tennessee. Jonathan and his wife, Bettie S. Butler Summitt, at the time of his death lived on a farm located in Loudon County just over the Monroe-Loudon County line. The farm site was located in Monroe County until Loudon County was formed in 1870.

Jonathan was born January 26, 1817, in Greene County, TN and died June 17, 1896, in Loudon County, TN. He was buried in St. Paul Lutheran Old Cemetery, Monroe County.

Jonathan married Bettie Saphiro Butler, November 5, 1837, in Monroe County. She died September 13, 1902, age 86 yrs., 2 Mos., 12 days, presumably on the family farm. Her burial location is unknown. I might note that one of the heirs of Jonathan Summit was the prominent Monroe County attorney, James McClellan Pardue

Jonathan Summit's daughter, Nancy Jane Summit, married James W. Pardue April 2, 1860 in Monroe County. Both were deceased by 1865. They had two children: Martha Pardue born August 30, 1860 and James McClellan Pardue born December 30, 1862. These are the two children referred to in Jonathan Summit's will as "the heirs of Nancy J. Pardue deceased". The two children were raised by their grandparents, Jonathan and Bettie S. Summit.

James McClellan Pardue went on to become a prominent citizen of Monroe County. He graduated with honors from Hiwassee College, studied law under T. E. H. McCrosky of Madisonville, served as a republican in the Tennessee House and Senate, published the Sweetwater Telephone (an independent newspaper), taught school, periodically engaged in a legal practice, and pursued numerous civil activities .

He married Rebecca Moser, daughter of Daniel Miller Moser and Elizabeth Jane Brakebill, and had five children. James McClellan Pardue died July 25, 1938 and is buried in the Westview Cemetery, Sweetwater, Tennessee. Rebecca died August 15, 1927. She is also buried in the Westview Cemetery.

My main purpose in mentioning this material is to clarify the individuals involved as heirs of Jonathan Summit. All of his other heirs are identified in the will, including his son and my great grandfather, James Lee Summit.
