Volume 8, Issue 3

October 2002

From The Editor

The year is quickly coming to a close and, as usual, time is getting away from me. Paul C. once told me I suffered from the Summitt malady of procrastination but, honestly, there just haven't seemed to have been enough hours in the day lately. I spent a week of August and a week of September in Dallas studying to be an Oracle Database Administrator. I also have to finish up my exams for the Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer for Windows 2000 while I'm at it. Those two things, in and of themselves, should be enough to make anyone's head swim but things are getting exciting in the family history at the same time.

I've recently seen a large number of new people commenting and uploading information to the Summitt Research Web site. Dave and I are in the process of merging the Summitt Reunion and Family Quarterly Web sites and will be adding much of the functionality of the Research site to the new combined site.

Part of the new information that is beginning to be discussed on the Web sites includes some of the information we've included in this issue. The pictures of Julia Ann Summitt and her descendents were uploaded to the site by Daniel Cummings. These are some outstanding old pictures and if

Records of St. Paul's Lutheran Church

Monroe County, Tennessee

(Editor's Note: This article continues our publishing of the condensed minutes of the church made by Walter C. Davis during the summer of 1962. We begin here with the recording of congregational meetings.)

First recorded is of August 27, 1864. It was resolved: "That the pastor of the church at some future time give public notice of the wishes of the church that all former members of the Lutheran Church of this community to come forward and enroll their names in our new record book."

For a few years the turmoil in the congregation seemed great. There were charges and counter charges. Many church trials for adultery, for "disturbing the peace," for "becoming excited and having short words" with other members, for "addault."

One was a charge by Spence Brakebill against Rev. J.M. Shaffer for having "preached unsound doctrine from the sacred desk." The charge; "That he preached that we put on Christ by baptism and in no other way, exclusive of faith and contended that we are made children of God by baptism whether we believe or not." The elders of St. Paul church were appointed by committee and brother Jacob Kinser being present was added to the committee. It was found by the evidence that brother Brakebill could not sustain his charge, you haven't had time to look at all of them on the site you need to make time to do so.

We also have continued the Records from St. Paul's Lutheran Church, taken another look at the descendants of William Ira Summitt, taken a hard look at whether James Lee Summitt was actually guilty of desertion during the Civil War, and taking a look at Mary Summitt's death certificate in 1918.

The pictures included with William Ira Summitt's information were provided by Barbara Summitt. Bob Shuping has provided many of the reunion pictures, and Glen Summitt has provided the documentation concerning James Lee Summitt and Mary Summitt.

All in all I think this issue has a lot to offer. Well, guess I better let you get to it and I'll start thinking about the January 2003 issue. I'll be in Dallas part of the month and Mary and I will be celebrating twelve years of marriage. Till next month ... paul and the committee decided against him. "After which it was put to the church for ratification which voted unanimously that he, Brakebill, did not sustain his charge." That was on Saturday, January 13, 1874.

On June 7, 1874 charges against Spencer Brakebill: "FIRST, for false accusation against brother Jacob Shaffer's sermon preaching the second Sunday in September 1873. SECOND, for refusing to appear before the church Council on Saturday before the sacramental meeting last. THIRD: That on Sunday following he assumed the sacred desk ordering brother Cloninger to his seat.

The Elders of the St. Paul Church was appointed a committee and after proof in the charges it was found that he, S. Brakebill, has vilated his ordination vow and his Christian duties, and therefore he, Elder Brakebill, be expelled from his office as Elder, and be debarred from the church privileges for six months. He may then be restored to all the privileges of the church by and act of the church."

Subject: November Newsletter

I just wanted to let you know that I will be publishing a newsletter in November. If you have anything that you would like to include, please let me know by the end of September. (I need time.....)

I'm especially looking for a family report that a young student may have done last year or this year for a class assignment. Something that would explain their Summit(t) lineage and heritage. Of course, I would expect such an article to include both of the child's parent's families. Maybe someone will have one?

Marriages, births. I have a couple on hand now, so get them to me, please.

Let's keep the family in touch!

Microfilm Roll #1 - Blackman Papers

Cassville Mo. May 6, 1886

L. M. Blackman

Dear Sir:

Your recd in course of mail and would have been answered sooner but I had to depend on others to write for me. We were sent to reinforce Burnside at Knoxville and Pushed Longstreet as far as Strawberry Plains when we were stopped . Then it was found that we were to fall back to Loudon and I applied for leave of absence to go home to look after a horse and some money that I had left with one Skremphshire who was about to go to Kentucky but the Major there in command of our regiment refused to approve on the ground that if he did so for one he would have to do so for all. Capt. James L. Dunnigan and Lieut Cudginton both told me to go on home and come back at Loudon and they would not report my absence if they could help it. I went and James L. Summitt and two or three others (I think Vernon and Reed) went at the same time. Summitt told me that the Captain told him that I was going and for him to go with me. The Captain went with me and passed me out of the line and Summitt overtook me about a mile out as well as I remember. We went on home and I rejoined the troops at Loudon as also did Summitt. I don't remember how long either of us stayed at home but don't think I stayed six weeks. As I remember I got back before Summitt. Both of us went to our duty regularly and neither had any idea that anything was wrong until the next pay day when we found our pay two months short. Summitt and I went to Lieut Cudginton about it and he said he had been called on for a report and that against his will he had had to mark us absent without leave. The pay day was after we had gone through the Georgia Campaign and had fallen back to Nashville and had been in all the battles up to Atlanta & from then back to Nashville our last fight before the pay day being at Franklin. Cudginton was mad about the reduction of pay and said the general had told him that all that were marked absent without leave and had returned to duty were restored & no notice would be taken of it and he didn't see what right they had to deduct two months pay. Neither Summitt nor myself were ever court martialed nor summoned to appear before a court martial. Our pay was simply withheld and what Cudington told us was all the explanation I ever got and I have never received pay yet. At the time the court martial sat at Marietta. Summitt and myself were on detached service with Lieut Cudington at Loudon hunting up negroes for the service. I remember this distinctly for I had preferred charges against Capt Feathersen of Co. I and I believe I was detailed and sent with Cudington to be kept from appearing against him. This is about all I remember that I think of. If Summitt could refresh my memory or call my attention to circumstances that I do not think of it is possible I could remember them.

Yours

Samuel Carr pr Jno W. Willshear.
